New Brockton Elementary School Principal Charles Cole examines library equipment damaged in weekend blaze. The bookshelf pictured above was completely destroyed by the fire, as were numerous items in the large open library.

Elba council discusses ways of cleaning up private property

The Elba City Council unanimously accepted the recommendation of Mayor Bob English Monday evening and hired a new street superintendent to replace Curtis Barefoot. N.L. Harvison, a long-time resident of Elba, was recommended by English who said, "Mr. Harvison has had several jobs that gives him experience in management and I feel he is well qualified for the position." English said Barefoot had expressed a desire to step down and have "more time for fishing." He will officially resign after a short training period for Harvison.

The city council passed a previously-discussed flood ordinance as required by the federal government if Elba citizens were to continue receiving flood insurance at cut rates. The rather lengthy ordinance wasn't read at the meeting, but English explained it was word for word as required by the feds.

English told council members there was a need for additional regulations to allow the city to enforce the removal of abandoned cars from private property and to require property owners to clean up the site after a building has burned. He told of telephone calls from local citizens describing one of these sites as a haven for large wharf rats.

A telephone call to the health department was non-productive as they have a backlog of work and not enough people to send out on these jobs, English said. The council agreed something should be done if it is legal and recommended English contact the Alabama League of Municipalities for suggested steps to take this matter.

Council members were told that the City of Elba had received a check from Southeast Alabama Gas for $62,000 this year, some three times the size of last year's dividend. The gas district is jointly owned by a group of municipalities and each receives a prorata share of any profits generated each year.

Council members were also told that the city has received another promise from the Census Bureau and they should be in Elba counting heads within a month. This information is needed before the council can divide the city into wards for the purpose of selecting council members for the next term. The council voted over a year ago to change to the single member district, with only those in the district voting on their representative.

Shriner's National Chicken Festival underway this week

The second annual National Chicken Festival, sponsored this year by the Doer Shrine Club, is underway this week and event organizers report there will be something for everybody before the week-long festival ends.

United Shows of Nashville, a nationwide carnival, opened its midway Tuesday night, April 28, at the county fairgrounds in New Brockton and the carnival will feature over 75 rides, shows and concessions at the site. There is no charge for parking and no charge for entrance onto the midway!

An Arts and Crafts Show is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2, at the Farm Center, Junior College gym. Over 70 entries have already been received for the show and organizers expect near to 100 displays on the day of the show.

The Dixie Flywheelers will display antique farm equipment on Saturday at the Farm Center parking lot and members from throughout the tri-states area are expected.

The high point of Saturday's events will be the Chicken Festival parade, sponsored by the Enterprise Jaycees, which will begin at Main Street in Enterprise at 10 a.m. The parade will feature a number of Shriner vehicles as well as area beauty queens.

Cadet English earns nation's top ROTC award for 1987

A 1982 Elba High School graduate has gone on to earn one of the nation's most prestigious awards for ROTC excellence during a recent ceremony conducted by the U.S. Army and the George C. Marshall Foundation, at the Virginia Military Institute.

Cadet William T. English, son of Billy and Edna English of Elba, received the 1987 George C. Marshall award as one of over 300 college students from across the country recognized for their excellence in military science and leadership skills. English represented the University of Alabama.

The George C. Marshall Foundation has been honoring the nation's top ROTC cadets since 1977. The award was named in honor of George C. Marshall who served as the Army's chief of staff during World War II and later went on to serve as Secretary of State and Defense during the Truman administration.

During their four-day conference, the students attended a wide range of lectures and seminars dealing with topics such as national security, leadership skills and the future of the military officer corps.

While attending the University of Alabama, English has received the Legion of Valor and the Superior Cadet award. He plans to receive a commission as a second lieutenant and attend flight school at Ft. Rucker.

Weekend blaze causes damage to New Brockton Elementary School

A small fire discovered over the weekend at the New Brockton Elementary School resulted in moderate smoke damage to a number of classrooms and water damage to carpet throughout the modern facility.

Principal Charles Cole reported he was returning home after attending a ball game near the school and stopped by "just to check and see that everything was alright." Cole stated he could smell smoke as he neared a side door, and when he opened the door smoke billowed out and water poured out onto the sidewalk.

The principal notified the police and the New Brockton Fire Dept. and upon arrival at the scene the department found a small fire in the school's library. A bookshelf, filing cabinet and numerous paper items were removed to the outside of the building and all exits to the school were opened to allow the smoke to escape from the building.

Water from the school's sprinkler system had apparently been activated by the smoke and had extinguished much of the blaze; however, at the same time the sprinklers poured a heavy amount of water into the library and the accompanying principal's office, causing damage to both rooms. The water also spread throughout the school and caused heavy damage to the carpet in over half the 22 classrooms.

Cole stated nothing was plugged in near the location of the fire and he had no idea of how the fire broke out; but said fire marshals would be called upon to investigate the incident.

Items totally destroyed by the fire and accompanying smoke and water included a piano, file cabinet, wooden bookshelf, two globes and many valuable library teaching aids.

County Commission adds water projects to grant application

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, April 27, at the courthouse in Enterprise and added a number of water extension projects involving the county's rural water systems to a community block grant application being prepared by a Montgomery firm.

The commission had worked with the firm of Raymond Wheat and Associates several months ago on a grant that would allow a number of rural water systems to extend their water lines with a grant that would pay 80 percent of the total cost of the project. A representative of the firm was present at Monday's meeting to again address the grant, and after telling the commission that additional projects could be applied for funding under a second grant application was given several new extension projects by the commissioners.

The commission stated it would study further plans during the next two weeks and give the firm a definite number of projects at its next meeting on May 11.

If approved, the grants would provide funds for the county's rural systems and if the systems decided to extend their lines the systems would pay the 20 percent not covered by the grant. The water systems would not have to do the extensions and would have the option to do the work after final approval is received.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

- was reminded that the National Chicken Festival was underway this week at the Farm Center and other locations across the county;
- sent out invitations to bid on asphalt materials for the highway department for the next six months;

Director commends Human Resources for excellent work

The Coffee County Dept. of Human Resources has released its monthly bulletin and in the report county director Ron Smith stated the department was continuing to operate in an efficient manner and that everyone in the county should be proud of the "excellent work of the agency."

Smith reported that the state had approved a request for an additional employee and soon an additional county employee would be placed in the eligibility and child support units. The director also stated the county department was working hard to gain more publicity in an attempt to inform the public of the good the department does and the services it offers.

Community Resources and Child Support supervisor Glenda Smith reported the puppet shows presented by Patient Anonymous were becoming more and more important. The show was presented to over 700 students during the month of March and Mrs. Smith stated the shows were good for the children because they could learn that they would not get into trouble for telling someone about things that happen.

Mrs. Smith also reported that the child support worker handled an average of 23 case records per day during March and talked with an average of 13 clients per day. The total client contact for March was 240. Total collections during the month amounted to $28,838.67.

Eligibility Unit supervisor Dianne Parker reported a busy month with a total of 329 cases involving aid for dependent children, while Food Stamp supervisor Debbie Jones reported her department issued food stamps to a total of 1,227 households during the month. Jones added that the total amount for active claims in March was $89,659.

Service Unit supervisor Cathie Hansen reported a total of 23 investigations into child abuse during the month and 5 reports of adult abuse. As of March 31 the department had cases on 19 adoptions, 39 foster care, 23 day care, 29 foster homes and 176 child protective services.

COLORED BACKGROUND

Brainstorms

By Ferrin Cox, Publisher

Tort reform is the leading topic of discussion in the legislature this time around. A package of bills have been introduced and we expect some to pass, but not before a loud and determined group of lawmakers try to debate the issue to the graveyard. We are not smart enough to know what would be the fairest way of reforming these laws, but strongly agree they have been abused by the judges, lawyers, injured parties and juries. We still cling to that dream of getting something for nothing, but somewhere down the line we have to pay the piper.

The Elba City Council is looking into ways of forcing property owners to clean up their act. In other words, if you park a car on private property and let the weeds and rats take over, they want to force you to move it. Also, they want to be able to enforce the clean-up of partially burned or dilapidated buildings that citizens ignore on their property. We wholeheartedly endorse this action, but thought it already existed. Somewhere in the back of our mind is an ordinance that allowed the city to clean up such places and bill the property owner for the cost. Apparently we were wrong, 'cause the council is looking into ways to start this action.

I don't know what time the Montgomery Advertiser is delivered in Elba, but it is early. Twice this week it was there when we got home with intentions of going to bed for a night's sleep! Lucky for me, Hedy knew why I was burning the midnight oil, and in fact one of those nights she was with me; but the missed sleep sure isn't good for my old bones. Better days are coming!

We were correct in our assessment last week that Alabama would win their ball game Saturday. We will also make the same prediction for Auburn in their upcoming intrasquad game. A lot of folks get excited about these practice games, but not me. I can't tell one thing about the team's ability when we play someone we practiced with all week. However, we do note with a bit of pride when a hometown boy does good. Jerey Wise intercepted a pass Saturday and we congratulate him on that.

Don't Count The Days-Make The Days Count

With only 16 days left for the senior, in "ye old Elba High School," everyone seems to be counting down the days. But instead of counting, why don't we just try to make each day the best it can possibly be?

It seems like only yesterday when we were starting our 12 long years of school. I think, if I remember correctly, everyone of us was crying for Mama as she walked out of that classroom door. But little did we know that that first day of school would make an impression on each one of us that would last a lifetime.

We've all shared pains, sorrows, heartaches, triumphs, tears, laughter, and most of all, friendships that will last until the end of time. We have grown little by little, day by day, toward maturity and independence. Being a senior brings on a whole new meaning to the words "life, future, happiness, strength," and most of all, "goodbye." We all say almost every day, "Gosh, I can't wait to get out of this place!" Mentally, yes we are ready; emotionally - no we are not. Graduating means there is an entirely new and different life out there waiting for us to conquer. It means there is a future out there for each of us to achieve that certain dream.

There is happiness in a world unknown with strength to endure the never-ending, and then there is that solemn little word that we all try so very hard not to say, but knowing at some point in time, we must say it: "goodbye" to 78 friends we've all grown up with and developed a certain love for.

So, as our final days approach, take a look back upon your past 12 years and remember all that we have been through together. Take a moment of your time and thank your friends for being there through all of those sad and happy times, because without those friends, some of us never would have made it this far! So, don't just count the days - make the days count!

And let each of us remember, as we grasp that diploma in our hand and take those final steps as a student down the hallways of high school - we have all come a long way and there is nothing out there that we can't achieve if we try!

God promised to cleanse the people of Israel of their sins and forgive them of their rebellion against him. Without this internal

ALABAMA EASTER SEAL SOCIETY
By: Lisa Dyess
Zion Chapel School has been participating in the Alabama Easter Seal Society's campaign to help collect money for the crippled children and adults in our area. Coin cards were distributed in the classes and were returned Tuesday, April 28. Mrs. June Brown, Coffee County Coordinator, said last year $891 was collected by the three schools in our system. Zion Chapel Elementary was responsible for over $400 of this amount. This money was spent providing transportation for four of the children from Project Independence in New Brockton for therapy at the Crippled Children's Clinic in Montgomery. Rehabilitation services were provided to 37 people in Coffee County, and 71 people from this area went to Camp ASCCA (Alabama Society for Crippled Children and Adults) at Lake Martin. Any crippled child six years of age or older may attend this camp. If the child has a sponsor, cost is approximately $200 a week.

ELEMENTARY STUDENTS VISIT MONTGOMERY
By: Diane Parker
The First White House of the Confederacy, the governor's mansion, the planetarium, the zoo, and the Pike Pioneer Museum are sites that will be visited by the fourth and fifth grades. This is a cumulative activity corresponding with the fourth and fifth grades' studies of American history. Fourth-grade students are going to Montgomery May 8; fifth-grade students are going to Troy to see the Pike Pioneer Museum. They hope to see cotton carded and spun into thread on a spinning wheel, and thread woven into cloth on a loom. They will eat at Burger King. Mrs. Chris Sully teaches fourth- and fifth-grade students, and will be chaperoning the trip.

SENIOR EASTER PARTY
By: Astrid Blaschka
The senior class had their Easter party Thursday, April 16. They had refreshments provided by class members, and enjoyed fellowship with each other. The party was held in the break area during seventh period. Mrs. Rachel Bryan and Mrs. Gale Jackson are sponsors of the class. Mrs. Jackson hid a money egg, and Tammy Gibson found it, becoming five dollars richer. She shared the money with Doug Stephens who helped her find the egg. Mrs. Bryan brought her camera, and she and Gregg Little had snapshots of the seniors and of the yearbook sponsors.

PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAM
By: Brian McLeod
The third, fourth and fifth grades of Zion Chapel Elementary School will soon begin the Presidential Physical Fitness Award program. Purpose of this program is to educate young people concerning the essential nature of physical activity and its relationship to health and physical fitness, and to give students the skills, knowledge and motivation to remain fit. Sum-ups, pull-ups, V-sit reach, one-mile run/walk, and the shuttle run are the five basic activities used in the physical fitness test program. Scores of each activity are compared upon completion, with the standards for the Presidential Physical Fitness award. Students who qualify for the award receive an official certificate signed by the president of the United States, and an award emblem designed for wear on sweaters, jackets or sweatshirts.

CAREER FAIR
By: Sheila Rugg
As a result of the Career Fair at Enterprise State Junior College, the senior class was given the opportunity to get information about various careers they may be considering for their future. Purpose of the fair was to give students the opportunity to get first-hand knowledge of various careers available to them. Representatives from business, industry and military were there, including insurance agents, medical assistants, dentists, orthodontists, architects, disc jockeys, cosmetologists, and representatives from the Air Force, Navy and National Guard. Students were able to ask questions about jobs and positions they were interested in. After the fair, they ate lunch and returned to school. The group was accompanied by Marsha Oggs and Pat Taylor.

TYPING CLASS
By: Pete Bryan
Recently Mrs. Rachel Bryan's Typing I class completed an assignment on bound manuscripts. The manuscripts were done in a more advanced style in order to prepare the students for college-level term papers, research papers and reports. The assignment was also important for those students planning for a business career later in life. It will help them prepare reports and other professional type manuscripts. The assignment also described how to type a title and bibliography page. Students were given seven days to complete the 8-page manuscript, working on it during class and other free time they had.

By: Tammy Duncan
RSVP invitations for the 1987 junior-senior prom were given out Monday, April 20. Due to the RSVP, French for "please reply," the juniors and seniors had to write an acceptance or regret reply. Regret reply cards read: "John Doe (student's name) regrets that he cannot accept the junior class's kind invitation to the junior-senior prom on Friday, May 1st, nineteen hundred eighty-seven at seven o'clock in the evening at the high school gymnasium." Students had to have replies in by Monday, April 27.

KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION
By: Diane Parker
Certification of immunization and registration forms were some information needed for the kindergarten registration. Parents filled out a form registering their child for the 1987-88 kindergarten year. Mrs. Diane Taylor, kindergarten teacher, handed the parents a sheet with a list of materials needed for the children. These materials are crayons, pencils, glue, scissors, school box, package of construction paper, nap pad, writing tablet, roll of paper towels, box of tissues and a book satchel. The registration was held April 13 and 14 from 8:30 until 5, and 33 students were enrolled.

HOSA DEMONSTRATES FIRST AID
By: Sharon Pope
Three HOSA (Health Occupations Students of America) members demonstrated first aid activities to Mrs. Refrege's fourth-grade Health class recently. Performing the activities they had learned in their Health Occupations class were Teresa Carter, Becci Husey and Sandra Simmons. The girls showed the class how to put a splint on an injured arm and leg; how to stop bleeding; how to perform CPR on a baby; how to help a choking victim; both baby and adult; how to treat burns; and how to apply a sling. The fourth-grade Health class had been studying first aid and were required to do a report on the subject. Felicity Littlefield invited the HOSA members to demonstrate the activities for her report.

Zion Chapel Considers Co-op Program
By: Connie Flowers
Zion Chapel has recently been considering adding the Co-op program to their 1987-88 schedule. This program will allow senior high students to receive not only their required courses in school, but also a grade on their work experience by holding down a part-time job.

Most teachers at Zion Chapel feel this program is greatly needed at Zion Chapel, and would teach the students some of the many responsibilities that will be theirs after graduation.

The beautiful weather last week gave a lot of people the fishing bug, and while I didn't get a chance to take a hook myself, my old fishing buddy Greg Brunson came into the office daily with reports of big catches at his local pond, and Bill Bullard and a friend went up to Eufaula and caught over 80! This week's schedule is even busier than last week's; however, if I can find a couple of minutes I'll drag Greg out to the pond and see for myself just how they're biting!

ELBA BASEBALLERS WIN AREA CROWN

The Elba Tiger baseball team completed its fabulous finish to the regular season last week with wins over area foes Louisville and Daleville to claim the Area 4 championship and a berth in this week's state baseball tournament. The trip to state is the first ever for an Elba High baseball team and that in itself is a story, but how the Tigers battled back from a disastrous start to win the area is also quite a story worth mentioning!

The Tigers had their best team in years last season and lost practically the entire team to graduation, which made this season one of the most ardent fan wasn't looking forward to. The Tigers got off to a very slow start and lost an early area game to Daleville, which meant every area clash left on the schedule was a "must win" game. The Tigers never really put it all together and had problems defeating old rivals such as Opp and Andalusia; however, they always came up with a win when Louisville or Daleville provided the competition, and with the wins last week claimed the title. I'm sure a lot of people will point at the record and say the team didn't beat anyone except the two area opponents - and that is true, but for the Tigers to win this season with a team loaded with underclassmen is quite an accomplishment, no matter who they beat. The Elba High baseball team made history by making it to state and deserves credit for winning the area and advancing into the state tournament. Great job, guys!!!

WZTZ SOFTBALL CLASSIC WAS JUST THAT

The first annual WZTZ Softball Classic was held last weekend in Elba and the tournament was truly a classic as far as local fans were concerned! The tournament featured a total of 30 teams, including 27 from out of town, and was a real treat to watch. The teams in the B and above division came from as far away as Gadsden, Montgomery, Niceville (Fla.) and Milton (Fla.), while in the C and below event, teams came to town from as far away as Ft. Walton Beach (Fla.) and Dothan. The teams all had nothing but praise for the beautiful softball complex at Hawkins-Williams Park and after the tournament members all asked when the next tournament was being held so they could come back.

It was great to see all the teams play, and a lot of local fans did come out to see the big boys in action; however, the real winner was Elba itself as the 27 out-of-town teams got a chance to visit our city, eat at our food establishments and buy gas, groceries and other items from the merchants in town. Yep, softball tournaments are for the players, but the people in town also get a chance to join in on the fun in more ways than one!

EXHIBITION SEASON PROVIDES PLENTY OF ACTION

The Dixie Youth Baseball League held its exhibition season last week and if the regular season is as exciting as the pre-season games were, it's going to be quite a year! The teams all looked good on defense and looked anything but in need of practice; however, the hitting of every team is what really stole the show. The players, but over a dozen home runs in the six ball games and the run production in every game was well in the teens. I asked one coach if the hitting was due to good hitters or weak pitchers, and his response was "a little bit of both," so the regular season may be the most exciting in years. Y'all come out and watch a game -- you might just have a good time!

IN CLOSING . . .

The large number of teams in last week's softball tournament resulted in games being played at the park in Mulberry Heights and the condition of the park was definitely a source of embarrassment for the city's recreation department. A couple of years ago the city's teams played at Mulberry Heights and the ballfield was in good shape; however, since the new complex was built the park has been all but ignored and the shape of the field has deteriorated. The Mulberry Heights park can still be a lovely place for all kids to play and the field should be maintained weekly so Elba residents can use the field whenever it is needed. It makes no difference whether or not the field is ever used for another tournament -- it should be kept up for the use of the people in Elba!

Players Needed For 16-18 Babe Ruth

All boys ages 16-8 who wish to play Advanced Babe Ruth Baseball should contact Robert Bowden at 897-3610 or Dennis Smith at 897-6833 or 897-2333 as soon as possible.

The league will begin play on Monday, May 11, and the first practice is scheduled for Thursday, May 7, at 6:30 p.m. at Legion Field.

Elba Tigers Claim Class 3A, Area 4 Baseball Championship

The Elba Tigers defeated Louisville and Daleville last week to win the Class 3A, Area 4 baseball championship and claim a spot in the Class 3A State Basketball Tournament, which will get underway this week across the state.

The wins gave the Tigers a final record of 5-7, 5-1 in area play, while Daleville placed second in the area with a 4-2 slate and Louisville finished third with an 0-6 record. Clayton did not field a team.

Following are highlights of the Tigers' wins last week:

Louisville 5

The Elba Tigers pulled out to an early 5-0 lead and held on to defeat the Louisville Red Devils 9-5, Tuesday afternoon in Elba. The Tigers jumped ahead 1-0 in the second inning on a solo home run by David Ammons and stretched the lead to 3-0 in the third when a walk to Ammons forced in Kim Berry and a single by Chris Thomas knocked in Stan Sauls.

A two-run single by Stan Sauls in the fourth inning upped the Tigers' lead to 5-0 and it looked as if Elba was on its way to an easy win. The Red Devils refused to die however and scored three runs in the fifth inning, compliments of three walks and an error to cut the lead to 5-3.

closing two innings, but Elba easily held on to post the important area win 9-5.

Scott Brown, David Ammons and Stevie Sauls singled to start off the bottom of the inning for the Tigers and when Matt Henderson reached on an error and Wynn Grimes followed with a walk, Elba had the bases loaded with no outs. Two quick outs on a strike-out and an infield fly dampened the Tigers' hopes for a big inning, but Scott Brown came through with a clutch single to knock in two runs, and Stan Sauls reached on an error as two additional runs crossed the plate to give the Tigers a big 9-3 advantage!

Louisville added lone runs in the Daleville jumped out to a quick

3-0 lead in the first inning on a 3-run homer by Ricky Lucky, but Stan

Sauls answered the 3-run shot with one of his own in the second inning third to give the Tigers an 8-3 lead they would never relinquish!

Sauls' second blast came after

Lamar Stokes and David Ammons doubled in Matt Henderson in the fifth inning and then came in to score on a single by Kim Berry to up the Tigers' lead to 10-3, and it appeared the Tigers were on their way to the big Area win!

A 2-run home run by Cooper in game; however, Elba came back strong in the seventh and plated four runs to put the win on ice. A walk by

Stevie Sauls opened the big inning

for the Tigers and a single by Stan

Sauls gave Elba two base runners with no outs. Two quick outs again put the Tigers within one out of a lead the Tigers at the plate, while

Kim Berry added 3 hits and Lamar

Stokes and David Ammons both

Round And About With Eria

897-2006

O Lord, thou hast searched me and known me. Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising; thou understandest my thoughts afar off. Thou compassedst my path and my lying down and art acquainted with all my ways. For there is not a word in my tongue, but lo! O Lord thou knowest it altogether. Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high, I cannot attain unto it. Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold thou art there. Psalm 139:1-8

"How many years combined were you a classroom instructor and principal?"

"I taught school for 42 years including being principal at the school for five years in Elba; two years in Lee County and the other 35 years in Enterprise."

"In fact my first assigned school was Sanford Jr. High in the Sanford Community in Lee County. I've enjoyed my work. It wasn't easy all the time, but it was honorable."

Mr. Garth is very dedicated, friendly, straightforward, no nonsense type of guy, and a firm believer in God and family. I took note that he managed to combine his remarkable retirement profession with dignity and honor, making him a true gentleman.

You've done your home work, Mr. Garth. God bless you! Have a good day!
